

Announcement:

Sue Eberhardt Joins Learning House

The Learning House, Inc., a total solutions eLearning services company, is please to announce a new addition to the team, Sue Eberhardt.

Sue was recently hired by Learning House as Assistant Manager for Client Development and Services. She will provide extensive client support and training and ongoing communication between clients and the Learning House. She can assist with instructional design, special graphics, video/multi media production and faculty training of the LMS.

Sue has extensive experience and a great deal of knowledge of a variety of disciplines that supports the delivery of distance education courses. As Program Coordinator for Distance Learning in Special Education at the University of Louisville she was responsible for providing training and services to faculty and staff in the learning management system, technical information and support, and general instructional design of course layout. Coordinated the production and development of multimedia and web-based course materials and facilitated communication between departments, offices and programs within the university. Additionally she offered personal client support to faculty and students for the successful delivery and study of online educational courses.

"We are all very excited about Sue coming on board. She brings a great deal of experience in the area of eLearning, particularly in faculty and student training. I know she will make our training efforts even more successful," states Ian Minderman, Vice-President of Operations.

About Learning House, Inc.

Learning House, Inc. was founded in 1985 by Dr. Denzil Edge. It is a comprehensive eLearning company that develops customized eContent, as well as audio and video products; hosts and leases course management systems; leases or sells eContent; and provides 24/7 Help Desk services, project management services, consultation and research services, editing services, and staff training for its clientele. Learning House, Inc. provides eLearning services to numerous institutions of higher education, professional organizations, government agencies, and businesses.

Source: Learning House, Inc. – www.learninghouse.com